1. How will it work? Essentially the subsidy is planned to work like this: A household earning between R3501-R15000 per month needs to find a newly built house for sale at a price of R300 000 or less, and then apply to a bank for a mortgage to buy that house. If the household qualifies for the mortgage, they will be allowed.

The original meaning of billion, established in the 15th century, was "a million of a million" (1,000,000 to the power of 2, hence the name billion), or 10 to the power of 12 = 1 000 000 000 000. This system, known in French as the "long scale", is currently used in most countries where English is not the primary language.
